

Glenfarclas Family
Casks 1969 (Cask
#2545)

57.5%

This comes from a refill butt and has a light, paler color. The lack of huge oak interaction has given an amazing freshness; think of freshly-applied plaster, syrup, hot green bracken, a touch of nuttiness. It takes water well, allowing pure, soft fruits to come through, and it is these which become almost syrup-like in the mouth, while never losing Glenfarclas' central depth and roasty richness in the center. £865

—Vol. 23, #3