Barrell Bourbon (Batch #006) 61.45%

Less driving aroma than Batch 005; lower floor? Both are a mashbill of 70/26/4% corn/rye/malt. More corn and cinnamon and bread dough in the nose here. A lot like 005, but more sweet cornmeal, less spice, less height in the mouth, and the finish is sweeter and longer. Might be that farmer's younger brother; this one's only 8 years old. Still good, a bit less complex. Sourced whiskey.
